Dear Friends:

It has been so evident that many of you have been praying for me. What an adjustment this has been, but the Lord has giving me grace each step of the way. I just finished my first week of school and the Lord's grace has been sufficient as promised.

It has been a blessing to attend services with Joel and Dana Gamonal. Dana has so graciously hand written the highlights of the messages as Joel preaches. A little bit at a time I am trying to communicate, but it is slow and will be for the time being. I was sitting in my apartment on last Saturday evening listening to the sounds of Peru and the Lord really touched my heart for the Peruvian people. I am excited for the time that I will be able to verbally give the 'reason for the hope that is in me' to these wonderful people. I am willing and ready to do whatever the Lord leads in this area of ministry. The Lord is the one that does any work that is successful, and I will be humbled if He allows me a ministry work in His kingdom work here. The one thing I can do now is to pray for Joel and Dana as they minister and to pray that the hearts of the Peruvians to whom they minister be open to the desire to grow in the knowledge and grace of our wonderful Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. I am willing to help Dana wash dishes or watch her boys so she will have more time if she needs to help Joel. Her boys are involved in the ministry, seemingly with a joyful spirit, which is a blessing to see.

Pray for me as I teach the first and second graders. It is such an awesome responsibility to present the Gospel from the viewpoint that God is Sovereign. It is so easy to make everything in a student's life based on performance and all the while missing the opportunity to let them know that it is what God did at Calvary and not what we do that makes us righteous.

I have included my address in Peru. But please continue to send support to my daughter

Thank you so much for your faithful prayer and financial support. I am excited about what the Lord has in store for me here and in the coming years until His glorious return.

Because of God's Amazing and Continuing Grace,
